Grave Concern for Vice-President.

Times the Patient Is Irrational.

Emergency Calls for the Physicians to His Home in Utica.

Hope Shaded by Doubt He May Not Return to Capital in December.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

UTICA (N. Y.), Oct. 29.—After a restless and unsatisfactory day, Vice-President Sherman dropped off to sleep while sitting in his chair at 3:30 o'clock tonight and at 11 o'clock still was sleeping. Dr. Peck, who had been with him most of the day for twenty-four hours, left his home expressing confidence that his patient would go through the night without great distress. His kidneys are acting more favorably.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Deep concern was manifested here today in the condition of Vice-President Sherman. While it is hoped that the Vice-President will recover, no one expects him to be in the chair when the Senate reconvenes in December.

The absence of the presiding officer, however, will give the Senate no new reason to solve. The latter fight over the election of a president pro tempore. The Senate met in an agreed-upon session in an agreement to have Senator Gallinger, New Hampshire, Republican, and Senator James, Georgia, Democrat, alternate in the chair. Just before Congress adjourned, Senator Bacon was chosen to serve as president pro tempore until December 18, and the understanding is that the rotation with Senator Gallinger will continue indefinitely.

Members of the American electoral college banded themselves today with investigations of the complications that would arise should the Vice-President's illness result fatally or compel his withdrawal before the election.

Precedents were found covering the situation of the withdrawal or death of Vice-Presidential nominees before the November election. Inasmuch as party procedure is not governed by statute, some of the parliamentarians said the party had the right to handle the situation in whatever manner it pleased.

The Georgia electors conceived the idea of electing a substitute candidate and printing his name on the ticket. In States where the tickets have not already been sent to press, the discussion which arose over the death of Horace Greeley, in 1872, was recalled in the investigation.

His death occurred after the November election, but before the electoral college met to elect a President and a Vice-President. In the meantime many Democratic electors had voted for others than Greeley.

Shekhet Pasha.

This week designated as chief of commissary for the Turkish armies, is regarded as the ablest of all Moslem army commanders. His appointment to the commissary is taken as a confession that the Turks attribute their reverses to their defective commissary, proving the old adage that armies travel on their bellies and that it will take a military and executive genius of the first class to create order and efficiency out of the existing chaos.

Bride Are Business Associates.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WILMINGTON (Del.), Oct. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Alice Houshold Dupont, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. T. Coleman Dupont, and Paul Edmondson Wilson, son of the late Col. Andrew G. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson of Wilmington, were married at Trinity Episcopal Church at 4 o'clock this evening. The wedding was attended by 1000 guests and was sumptuous.

The bride's father is president of the Dupont Powder Company and heads a $25,000,000 syndicate that will erect the largest office building in the world on the site of the old Equitable building, New York. He is also associated with Charles F. Smith of Cincinnati, the President's brother, in big hotel projects throughout the country.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frederick M. Kirk, rector of Trinity Church, assisted by Rev. Dr. George C. Hall, archdeacon of Wilmington.

Following the nuptials a reception was given at the home of Gen. and Mrs. Dupont, at which there were 350 guests. Tonight the couple left on the general's steam yacht Tech for a cruise. They will be followed by an extended automobile trip.

The bridegroom is connected with the Greely Square Hotel Company, New York, which is building the Hotel McAlpin, and in which Gen. Dupont is largely interested. They will reside at No. 37 Madison avenue, New York.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Fifty leading jewelers of the United States voted today to adopt the metric carat as the standard of weight for diamonds. Under the new standard a carat will weigh 200 milligrammes; under the old it weighed 205.3 milligrammes. The reduction in weight is 2 1/2 per cent. The change will become effective July 1, 1913.

The new standard weight is known as the international carat and is in use all over the world, except in England, Holland, Belgium and the United States. A committee was appointed to ask Congress to make it the only legal carat in this country.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

TARRYTOWN (N. Y.), Oct. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John D. Rockefeller is having the most unique telephone system in the world installed in his new million-dollar mansion at Pocancito Hills, and when it is ready for operation he will be his own "hello" boy. The system is an intercommunicating and will have thirty-three extensions. He can by pressing a button get any room in the house and his conversations cannot be heard by the central office because when he talks he is automatically cut off from the outside world.

IT'S BACK TO THE WALL, TURK FIGHTS VICIOUSLY.

Terrific Conflict Said to be in Progress Near Constantinople.

Ten Thousand Moslems Slain in a Single Battle With the Allies as a Preliminary to the Decisive Clash—Unheard-of Atrocities Perpetrated by the Followers of the Prophet on the Wounded.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The long-awaited battle which will decide the fate of Turkey is now being fought. The army under Nazim Pasha, Minister of War, and commander-in-chief, is engaged and according to Constantinople official dispatches, the operations are favorable to the Ottomans. The dispatches, however, do not indicate where the chief action is taking place or how the opposing forces compare.

It is Turkey's last chance to retrieve an almost hopeless campaign. Nazim Pasha is fighting with his back to the wall; his communications have been cut and it is impossible for him to get fresh supplies or reinforcements.

In Constantinople the feeling of confidence is reviving. It is believed that the War Minister has at last assumed the offensive. But this is by no means certain, as the battle may have been forced upon him. Sofia dispatches indicate a continued forward movement of the Bulgarians, but give no details. There is still no confirmation of the reported capture of Lule Burgas, Demotika and Drama. The Bulgarians are fighting in the direction of Viza in pursuance of their plan to advance to the extreme east in the direction of Constantinople.

The Greeks also are marching with victories to their credit toward Salonika, where a feeling of extreme anxiety is said to prevail and provisions are running short. The fact that no apparent effort is being made to stem the Greek advance to Salonika is held to indicate that the bulk of Turkey's army there has been transferred to Thrace.

No recent information has been received of the operations around Scutari or other points to the west of Sofia. Diplomatic activities continue in London. Prime Minister Asquith had an audience with the King today. No formal action has been taken or is likely to be taken until the result of the great battle is known.

MAY DECIDE FATE OF WHOLE CAMPAIGN.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 29.—The Minister of War has advised the government that an important battle was in progress this afternoon along the whole front and the Turkish troops were gaining ground. A late telegram received from Nazim Pasha says that the battle begun today is still being waged with great violence. He adds that the situation for the Ottoman troops is very favorable.

Another official dispatch reports fighting yesterday and today between Uskub Dere, east of Kirk-Kiliseh, and Viza. Two battalions of Bulgarians were cut off from the main body and sustained heavy losses. Fighting continues between the Greeks and Turks in the Kodan region of Macedonia. According to reports given out, the Turks are being driven back.

Dispatches dated three days ago gave the first news received here of the precarious position of the western army, which was admitted to be grave. It is asserted, however, that a considerable force concentrated at Velea disputing the advance of the Servians and Bulgarians.

TEN THOUSAND TURKS KILLED IN BATTLE.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

VRANYA (Serbia), Oct. 29.—At the battle of Kumanova the Servians lost 500 killed and 2000 wounded. The Turks lost 10,000 killed and wounded.

All accounts of the fight pay tribute to the valor of the Servian officers and men. Lieut. Milich, commanding an infantry company, blew out his brains rather than obey a command to retire from an exposed position; whereupon his men charged the Turks, with the result that all were killed.

The cavalry, with the King's brother, Prince Alexandre at the head, charged repeatedly. The commander-in-chief, Crown Prince Alexander, was frequently on the firing line and entered the town while the battle was in full swing.

TO PROSECUTE WAR WITH DOUBLED ENERGY.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

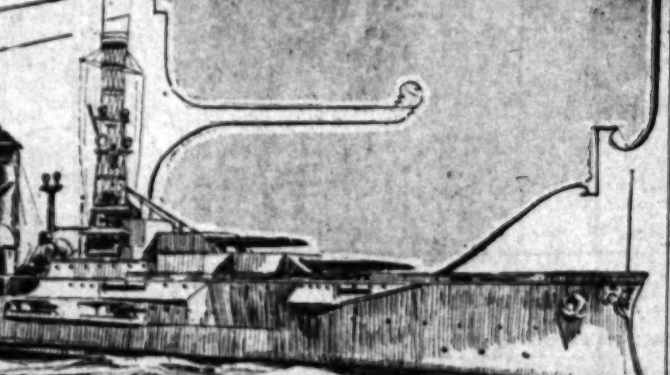

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 29.—Kiamil Pasha, president of the Council of State, assumed today the office of Grand Vizier, in succession of Ghasi Mukhtar Pasha, who resigned. An imperial decree commands the new Grand Vizier to prosecute the war in all energy in order to secure a victorious issue.

Although all the changes in the Cabinet have not yet been made, it is believed that Nazim Pasha will be retained as Minister of War and Foreign Affairs. Jemaladdin Pasha will be retained as Sheikh-ul-Islam. The change in the Grand Vizierate

With her hull practically finished, her boilers and many of her interior fittings in their places, the battleship New York, the very latest word in the construction of super-dreadnaughts, is ready for her launching, which will take place at the Brooklyn Navy Yard on October 30. Miss Elsie Calder, daughter of Representative William M. Calder of Brooklyn, N. Y., has been selected as sponsor for the battleship. Miss Calder will be assisted by Miss Kathleen Fitzgerald, daughter of Representative John J. Fitzgerald, who will be flower girl. President Taft, the members of his Cabinet, government officials and persons prominent in business and society are expected to be present at the ceremonies.

PAINTED RED FOR OCCASION.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—[Special Dispatch.] The new super-dreadnaught New York, rearing its vermilion nose above the roofs of the navy yard buildings, looked its very biggest today. Tomorrow morning at high tide, which comes between 10 and 11 o'clock, the monster is scheduled to slide off its ways and hide its huge hull in salt water.

President Taft will be there; so will George von L. Meyer, Secretary of the Navy; Rear-Admiral Osterhaus, commander of the Atlantic fleet; Maj. Gen. Barry, commanding the Eastern Division of the United States Army; Gov. Dix, Lieut.-Gov. Conway, Mayor Gaynor, Senators Root and O'Grady, the New York Congressmen and any number of other officials.

The sawing off of the sliding ways so carefully watched in former launchings will be missed on this occasion. After all the "shores" have been removed and the wedges which lift the ship up onto the sliding ways have been driven in, the only thing at her back will be two hydraulically controlled steel fingers and triggers. The turning of the little valve handle will release these two powerful fingers. Naval Constructor Bailey will therefore take personal charge of this valve and give it a gentle turn only after he has satisfied himself that the path is unobstructed.

With all her boilers inside of her, the New York will hit the water weighing 10,000 tons. About two years more will be consumed in completing her so that she may leave the navy yard a full-fledged fighting ship.

LAND SUIT ON TRIAL AT OROVILLE Involves Possession of Part of Fruit Grant Near Chico, [BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] OROVILLE (Cal.), Oct. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the most important land suits ever tried in the county was begun in the Superior Court today. The case involves 2340 acres of the Fruit Grant near Chico, the deed to which the plaintiff is seeking to have set aside on the grounds of fraud. The action is entitled Annie M. Williams versus Arthur D. Lockwood and George H. Thompson, executor of the estate of Arthur D. Briggs now dead, of San Francisco. The complaint alleges that while Briggs was confidential agent and adviser of the plaintiff he induced her to sell to him 2340 acres of the Fruit Grant by misrepresenting its true value.

NO MERCY FOR DIAZ.

Madero Seals Fate of Rebel.

That Execution Is to Occur
Despite Court Decree, Is Current Rumor.

Embers of Revolt Flare Up in Many Portions of Republic.

Southern Part of Mexico
Practically Dominated by Zapatistas.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 29.—That Gen. Felix Diaz and his associates will be executed at Vera Cruz in accordance with the decree of the court-martial, in spite of the order of the Supreme Court, is the disquieting rumor that reached the capital today. There is reason to believe they were placed in San Juan de Ulla Prison today.

Col. Diaz Ordaz, chief lieutenant in the Diaz revolt who escaped in the confusion on the day of the fighting, was captured last night, ten miles from Vera Cruz. The small force of rebels that followed him to the hills is still at large.

With the capture of Ordaz the government expresses the belief that the Diaz revolt is entirely ended, but reports from various parts of the republic indicate that much time must elapse before the complete restoration of peace in Mexico.

CENTERS OF REVOLT.

Tuxpan and Guadalupe are the centers of the revolt in the coast region, between Vera Cruz and Tampico, where a rising is headed by minor officers of the regular army. A gunboat will go from Vera Cruz to Tuxpan and cooperate with a land expedition at that point. Local and foreign companies at Tuxpan and in the adjacent territory are the victims of forced loans.

The State of Jalisco is showing greatly increased rebel activity, according to the official report of the Governor, who recounts in detail the operations of numerous bands in at least twenty towns.

The State of Michoacan continues a favored field for rebel movements. One band is operating a few miles from Morelia, the capital. The southern part of the State of Mexico is practically dominated by Zapatistas.

OROZCO ACTIVE.

Gen. Orozco, with a small force, is now on the Santo Domingo ranch in the northern part of the State of Coahuila. Cheche Campos is operating in the neighborhood of Torreon, to the south of which another station on the line of Mexican Central has been burned and the railroad cut, necessitating another suspension of traffic north of Zacatecas. Two stations on the line to Guadalajara have been sacked.

NEW REVOLTS.

In the State of Morelos the Zapatista activities are complicated slightly by the rising of a small garrison of government troops at Yauatepec, and the State of Tlaxcala offers a new phase by a conflict between the rurales and regulars over the question of the validity of the election of the Governor. The rising in Yucatan will require an energetic campaign.

MADERO REFUSES EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 29.—President Madero will interfere no more in the case of Gen. Felix Diaz, who has been condemned to death at Vera Cruz. This statement was made by the Foreign Minister, Senor Lascurain, tonight. He said the entire matter was now in the hands of the Supreme Court, which will decide the question of jurisdiction. The President, he added, is disposed to abide entirely by the law.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MODESTO, Oct. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sinking on his knees in the office of Sheriff A. S. Dingley this morning Frank Bouchard, arrested at Oakland Sunday on the charge of failure to provide for his wife and children in Oakland, confessed to extensive counterfeiting operations, which have extended over the past year and which might have continued for some time to come had not been for the commission of the lesser act for which he was taken in to custody.

In Bouchard's possession were found quarters and dimes manufactured by him and at his hut in the Board-construction camp near Thibault where he has been cooking for the crew of laborers, was uncovered three counterfeit moulds each containing several pieces bogus money.

Railway Agent Killed by Discharged Secretary.

BY A. F. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.

MISSOURI (O.K.) Oct. 29.—Five youthful robbers held up a passenger train on the "Katy" route, near the mouth of Butte, today, compelling the engineer to detach the engine and baggage car and run ahead. They then blasted and robbed the express car. Company of men, who followed the robbers, recovered several thousand dollars.

FLAGGED BY FIRE.

While one robber held the train, the other two uncoupled the engine and baggage car from the express. They then forced the engine into the cab and ordered the engineer to open the throttle. The engine pulling the two cars shot out of the station. What remained of the structure fell into the river a few minutes after the cars had passed.

USE DYNAMITE.

A side of the other side of the bridge the bandits ordered the engine to stop. The safe in the express car was dynamited and the robbers fled with their plunder. The express car, which carried several thousand dollars, was stolen. The safe was given and passed over to the express car. The safe was given and passed over to the express car. THOUSANDS OF LOS ANGELES POLKS ARE CURED.

No Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn, or Dyspepsia Five Minutes After Taking "Pape's Diapepsin."

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapepsin and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief. This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't fit comfortably or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of "Pape's Diapepsin" and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

"Pape's Diapepsin" is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach was there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach disorder.—[Adv.]

Contractor Leaves Sioux City for Auto Trip—Body Is Later Fished From River.

BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SIoux CITY (Iowa) Oct. 29.—The murder theory is being entertained by the police in the case of George Miller, the Sioux City contractor, whose body was recovered from the Missouri River near Winnie, Neb., Monday. Miller is known to have had several hundred dollars when he left here. Only $50 was found in the pockets of the dead man.

Miller and his party, consisting of Frank Stumper, "Louie" Matwig, Hall and Bertha Holbrook, left Sioux City October 2, ostensibly for an automobile trip to Omaha. They visited a roadside at South Sioux City, where they were not seen again. Two days later, October 4, Matwig made a draft on his home bank at Danbury for $50, announcing his intention of going to Minneapolis.

The finding of Miller's body in the river led at first to the belief that the automobile in which the party was riding had dashed into the river near Dakota City, Neb., where the stream recently had cut into the highway.

Shipments Out of California Will Reach Thirteen Thousand Cars, Passing Last Year's Output.

(BY DISPATCH WIRE.) SACRAMENTO, Oct. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A big shortage in the amount of Tokay grapes available for shipment to eastern markets has not prevented the 1912 crop of California deciduous fruits from breaking all records in output. It is estimated that the shipments from the State this year will reach 12,000 cars, as against 12,523 cars, the total number of cars shipped from the State in 1911.

The extra large grape crop last year established the 1911 crop as a record breaker. Grapes were short this year, but bears came forward with a record-breaking yield and so the general output of deciduous fruits again establishes a record.

Fruit shipments this season have already passed the entire output of 1911. To date, fruit shipping concerns have handled 12,523 cars, against a total of 12,523 cars for last season.

Cherries and plums assist pears in making the 1912 deciduous crop a record breaker, but pears were most prominent with 2104 cars this year to date, against 2202 cars for all of last season. This year, 244 cars of cherries were shipped, against 216 cars last year, and 1712 cars of plums were shipped this season, against 1364 last.

Grape shipments this season are not so far behind those of a year ago as the damage to Tokay's warrant. The reason is that the raisin market has not been the best and many Malaga grapes have been shipped fresh instead of going to the drying yards. Generally considered, prices this year have been satisfactory.

north side of Old Baldy—flowing into Lytle Creek Canyon. I fully intend to stay in the best equipped, and most beautiful water system of its kind in the entire citrus belt.

Fourth—From even a straight land investment standpoint, the Fontana groves appeared to me. The tremendous amount of development work now going on in this district, the proximity to the most beautiful cities in Southern California, the excellent transportation facilities, the coming of the new Pacific Electric car line extension, and other important features, combine to make Fontana groves excellent subjects for straight investments.

Fifth—The quality and quantity of citrus fruit produced in this section, together with the comparative freedom from killing frosts, smut, scale and gum diseases which the entire district enjoys, were also strong features that won my favor. I found conditions compared favorably here with the best citrus districts in Southern California, such as Upland and San Dimas, and other investigations I found no better soil, climatic, or water conditions anywhere. I don't believe there is an ounce of hardship on the entire tract.

After thoroughly satisfying myself as to the wisdom of buying in this district, I purchased 20 acres, which I had planted as follows: 5 acres to Valencia, 5 acres to Washington Navela, 5 acres to Eureka lemons, and 5 acres to Marsh's seedling grape fruit. My grove is being scientifically cared for by the citrus experts of the Fontana Company at a cost of $2 per acre per month, which I consider very reasonable.

I have every reason to believe that my grove will be producing handsome returns on the investment in a few years. I paid $450 an acre for my land, completely planted. I have a whole year to pay for my property, and I see no reason why the crops of the 4th, 5th and 6th years should not take care of at least half of the entire cost of the land. My grove is close to 12 and 15-year-old groves, which are now bearing heavily and producing big interest on the investment. My grove has the benefit of the same soil, water and climatic conditions.

I bought my grove on the Fontana tract after getting the opinions of some of the most experienced citrus growers in Southern California. I can heartily recommend this district to anyone who has in mind the purchase of a young grove, the lemon or grape fruit grove. The offices of the Fontana Company are located at 625 So. Hill St. Thomas D. Campbell & Company, Exclusive Selling Agents. Home 6072, Main 4754.

TAFT ANXIOUS TO WIN OHIO.

Feels a Natural Pride in Gaining Buckeye State.

Discusses His Policies in Letter to Cincinnati.

Declares Third Party Does Not Expect Success.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—"No man would care to have his State fall, but who apart from selfish reasons, I want to see Ohio go Republican by a large majority," said President Taft in a letter to Fred A. Geier of Cincinnati, made public today at the White House. The President attacked Gov. Wilson and the Democratic party on the tariff question and said Ohio would suffer particularly if the present tariff protecting the steel, wool and pottery business were disturbed.

The injury which Ohio would suffer from a Democratic victory would probably exceed that inflicted on any other State in the Union.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER.

The letter says: "That is clearly shown by the efforts which our Democratic friends already have made to rob Ohio Industries of their protection which is so essential to their continuance, to say nothing of their prosperity."

"You, of course, realize how disastrous the steel mill, which I was compelled to vote, would have proved to our State. In their wool bill the Democrats struck a vital blow at the wool industry. The Democrats reduced the duty on raw wool to 25 per cent, and as for the manufacturers of stockings, the Democratic bill would have put them entirely out of business, leaving our farmers with no home market and throwing hundreds of thousands of employees out of work."

"Does it not strike you as supremely ridiculous for Gov. Wilson vaguely to intimate that if he is elected he will make such a gentle reduction of the duties that business will not be injured, when his party has so recently put itself on record as attempting such reckless changes of the tariff that had it not vetoed their measures, we would even now be confronted with a panic?"

WILSON AND THE TARIFF.

"What, think you, could Mr. Wilson do, in the White House were there Democratic majorities in both House of Congress? And especially what could he do, when he has been elected on a platform which declares all tariff imposed for purposes of protection, and which also this election of a Democratic majority in the Senate, and then even the compromise effected by the majority of the Senate would mean a reduction of the duties on such goods as the Democratic party would send to Mr. Wilson for his signature and which he could not refuse to sign."

THE THIRD PARTY.

"Of course these facts are clearly realized by the third party, so much so that some of them have not hesitated to declare that the election of Gov. Wilson would mean financial disaster. And yet, they are working for nothing other than the election of Mr. Wilson and a Democratic Congress. From absolutely dependable sources I have learned that the third party believes it has the slightest chance of success and that they realize that a vote for it means a vote for the Democrats. But they are, most of them, so filled with hatred for the Republican party, because it refused to accept their dictation, that they are willing to bring disaster upon the whole country simply to gratify their revenge."

SUFFRAGETTE PARADE.

DELVA LOCKWOOD A DELEGATE.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Suffragists are to impress on the country the cause of "votes for women," by organizing a militant parade during the Presidential inauguration week, March 4, next. They have elected Delva A. Lockwood leader of the local delegation to the next annual convention in Philadelphia.

CAMPAIGN MONEY.

Report on the Expenditures and Receipts of the Democrats in the Congressional Contest.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The report of contributions and expenditures of the Democratic Congressional Committee was forwarded by Representative Flood of Virginia, treasurer. It showed that contributions had been received by Mr. Flood in the sum of $10,925 and by South Trimble, in charge of western headquarters, in the sum of $10,465. Mr. Flood reported that he had disbursed $10,525 and Mr. Trimble $470.55, when the largest single contributor was shown to have been Thomas F. Ryan, who gave $5000 to Mr. Flood. None other exceeded $1000, except a contribution of $2000 by South Trimble as treasurer of the western headquarters and $1000 by the Democratic Congressional Auxiliary Committee of Washington, D. C. No itemized account was sent from the western headquarters.

Source of reports of expenditures and receipts were sent the clerk by Congressional candidates. Representative Dennis Payne reported he had received in his district in New York $1380, through the county committee. Former Speaker Cannon reported he had received one contribution of $100 from F. D. Stout. His expenditures were $2012, all of which was given to the County Committee except $120 expended for a special train, and another item recorded in this way: "October, 1912, traveling expenses and subsistence of secretary, $125.75." Speaker Clark reported he had received $65 and expended $547. George Cochran, Progressive Congressional candidate in New York City, reported an expenditure of $1459. Among Pinchot, Progressive Congressional candidate in the Eighteenth

IS A FLOOD GOD'S ACT?

Court of Claims Must Answer in a California Case.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 29.—

[Exclusive Dispatch.] "The Court of Claims was today called upon to decide whether damages by flood was 'an act of God' and, if so, should the government or the contractors doing business for it make good the losses ensuing. John G. and I. M. Day, California contractors, are seeking to collect $12,158 spent in protecting improvements on the Columbia River, Oregon, from being destroyed by floods in the year 1904. They were building a canal to circumvent the cascades on the river and in the course of their operations a flood arose which threatened to destroy improvements along the river co-related with their operations. Army engineers ordered them to build abutments and construct such other necessary work to keep the waters back. Then the War Department decided that it could not reimburse for the extra amount of money spent."

New York District, reported an expenditure of $1187. M. P. Andrews, Progressive Congressional candidate in the First Ohio District, sent some of his literature with his report. J. S. Wilson, Socialist candidate in the Sixth California Congressional District, reported receipts of $1290 and expenditures of $1422. Victor Berger, the only Socialist in Congress, reported that he had spent nothing. The rules of our party not permitting it.

Howard Sutherland, candidate at large for Congress from West Virginia, under the item of contributions wrote in his report: "Nothing. Nothing in sight and nothing promised."

PURGING GREAT REGISTER.

Twenty Thousand Names Under Suspicion Placed on Challenge List for Election Day.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Twenty thousand names that appear on the Great Register are under suspicion at the Registrar's office. When the men or women bearing those names go to the polls next month, challenges will be entered.

The list of supposed staffers, or illegal registrations, is nearly completed at the Registrar's office. The work of purging the register was begun by the Registrar immediately on the closing of registration. Under the State law the proprietor of every lodging-house and hotel is required to submit a list of residents in his place of business on September 1. These lists have been carefully checked, and wherever a discrepancy exists, the name of the suspect has been transferred to the challenge list. It is taken for granted by the Registrar's office that if a man cannot find a voter at his address there is reason for suspicion, and every one whose name has been returned to the registration office will have to explain himself at the polls. The department also has detailed a man to assist in every suspected case other than those arising from these sources, and a good many people will find themselves in trouble if they try to vote.

The total registration is about 134,000, and the list of suspects runs to 26,990.

ON BULL MOORE TRAIL.

JOHNSON IN NUTMEG STATE.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NORWICH (Ct.) Oct. 29.—Over the trail Col. Roosevelt had promised Connecticut Progressives he would cover during the closing days of the campaign. Gov. Johnson traveled today and received an enthusiastic welcome from the Progressives in Meriden, New London and Norwich. The latter two meetings were held tonight.

CHOICES LESSER EVIL.

Postmaster at Petaluma, Editor of Argus, Announces His Support of Woodrow Wilson.

(By Federal Wireless Line to the Times.)

PETALUMA, Oct. 29.—[Special Dispatch.] The Petaluma Argus, one of the staunchest Republican papers in Sonoma county, tonight announced that from now till election day it would support Woodrow Wilson. The principal owner and editor is the postmaster at Petaluma, J. Emmet Olmstead. In announcing the change of policy, the Argus said in part:

"We are glad in the wool Republicans. We have an abiding faith in the Republican party. We know that it is founded upon the rock of national safety and that its record is one of splendid achievement. It is intensely human that of two evils we should choose the lesser, and that is exactly what we are doing in this case. Having been deliberately and fraudulently disfranchised so far as the nomination of the Republican party are concerned and being unable to cast our ballots for William H. Taft, there remain but two candidates between whom we must choose. If we are not to lose entirely our right of franchise which up to this hour we had supposed to be safely safeguarded by the constitution."

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save your hair! Danderine destroys dandruff and stops falling hair at once—Grows hair, we prove it.

If you care for heavy hair, that glimmers with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It eventually—no not now! A 25-cent bottle will truly amaze you.—[Adv.]

TRAIN-LOADS OF POLITICS.

Marshall Addresses Crowd Delayed by Wreck.

He Denounces Progressives for Party Theft.

South Dakota Purists Given a Dressing Down.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LEMMON (S. D.) Oct. 29.—Gov. Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, Democratic candidate for the Vice-Presidency, sent several trainloads of politics into the State of South Dakota today when he delivered an uncheduled speech in Lemmon, where his train had been held up for nine hours because of a freight wreck.

Gov. Marshall's audience at the City Hall was composed mainly of passengers from the Seattle-Chicago limited on the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound Railway and several local passenger trains which were blocked at Lemmon by the wreck.

MISSION OF MERCY.

Political debate was rife about the waiting trains after the Governor had concluded his speech. While the Vice-Presidential candidate was speaking, Mrs. Marshall was busy seeking aid for the family of Brakenham Breiting, killed in the freight wreck, who was reported to have left seven children.

In opening his speech, Gov. Marshall attacked the Progressive party in South Dakota.

REPUBLICANS DISFRANCHISED.

"I would like Gov. Wilson to carry South Dakota," said Gov. Marshall, "but I want him to carry it because the people of South Dakota want him and not because certain men here who may not believe in his policies may be forced to vote for him or stay away from the polls because they have been disfranchised by the Purists of South Dakota, who have removed the Taft electors from the official ballot. But if you vote for Gov. Wilson, I urge you most earnestly to elect Democratic Congressmen from South Dakota to back him up in carrying out the policies in the Democratic platform. We don't want a half-victory in November."

After his speech, Gov. Marshall held an informal reception aboard the observation car of his train to many townspeople and travelers from trains on the sidetracks in the yards here. Owing to the delay, it was said that Gov. Marshall would be unable to speak at Moberg and Aberdeen, where he was scheduled to talk.

Fusion in Colorado.

DENVER (Colo.) Oct. 29.—(By A. P. Night Wire.) Announcement was made at both Republican and Progressive headquarters today that a fusion on legislative tickets had been made in a large number of districts. About twenty of the sixty-two counties in Colorado are affected.

Man Under Arrest in El Paso Says He Victim of a Los Angeles Traction Company.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

EL PASO (Tex.) Oct. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A man calling himself Green, alias Hyman Greenberg, was arrested here today. The arrest resulted from an effort by Green to recover damages from the El Paso Street Railway Company for alleged injuries received here by falling from a trolley car.

Green remained in the hospital for two days feigning unconsciousness. He was then given the third degree by detectives and confessed he had worked the same game in Phoenix, Los Angeles and Springfield, Ill. where he admitted getting $25 and a railroad ticket at Phoenix and a ticket from Los Angeles to Phoenix from the Los Angeles company.

DENVER (Colo.) Oct. 29.—(By A. P. Night Wire.) Announcement was made at both Republican and Progressive headquarters today that a fusion on legislative tickets had been made in a large number of districts. About twenty of the sixty-two counties in Colorado are affected.

After his speech, Gov. Marshall held an informal reception aboard the observation car of his train to many townspeople and travelers from trains on the sidetracks in the yards here. Owing to the delay, it was said that Gov. Marshall would be unable to speak at Moberg and Aberdeen, where he was scheduled to talk.

COUNTY CHARTER PLAN; JUST WHAT IT MEANS.

Clear Explanation of Draft to Be Voted on Next Tuesday—An Innovation Never Tried by Any Other County in America—Many Radical Changes from the Present Form of Government.

Next Tuesday the electors will decide whether the proposed county charter drawn during the past summer by a board of fifteen freeholders shall be henceforth the statutory law under which county officers shall exercise authority.

If the charter is adopted, Los Angeles county will be the first in America to adopt this form of government. Although many cities have adopted the mayor or commission form of government, notably St. Paul, New Orleans and Buffalo, it has never before been attempted to extend the form to a county government.

At the present time Los Angeles county is governed under the authority of the Constitution of the State of California and, according to the terms of the County Government Act, applying to counties of the first class, and such special legislation as has been passed from time to time. The proposed charter would give Los Angeles county a law unto itself to take the place of legislative enactment, excepting certain general laws and excepting the State Constitution, which limits the power of the charter.

The following are the principal innovations or changes proposed by the charter:

Application of civil service to practically all departments of county government, under a civil service board of three, appointed by the Board of Supervisors.

Reducing the elective offices to eight, as follows: Five Supervisors, Sheriff, District Attorney and Assessor. Justices of the peace will also be elected.

Increasing the appointive officers to twenty, as follows: Auditor, County Clerk, County Counsel, Fish and Game Warden, Health Officer, Horticultural Commissioner, Live Stock Inspector, Probation Officer, Public Administrator, Public Defender, Purchasing Agent, Recorder, Registrar of Voters, Road Commissioner, Superintendent of Charities, Superintendent of Public Works, Tax Collector, Treasurer. There will be in addition the members of the Board of Education, members of the Board of Law Library Trustees and members of the Probation Committee.

Abolishing the fees system and raising salaries of officers formerly receiving them to compensate for the loss.

Putting the constabulary under the Sheriff.

Outing the new offices of Public Defender, Registrar of Voters, Road Commissioner, Superintendent of Charities and County Counsel.

Putting practically the entire governing power into the hands of the Board of Supervisors, depending upon the civil service as a curb and reducing them to publish a code of rules prescribing the duties and fixing systems of management, accounts and reports for the offices, institutions and departments of the county.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

At the Board of Supervisors is the head of the county government, the members of the charter affecting them are first taken up here. The number of the board is five—and practically the only change which would affect the board personally is an increase in salary from $2400 to $3000 a year. The Supervisors will have power to change the boundaries of the supervisorial districts by a two-thirds vote, but such change must be made within one year after a general election. The charter framers claim that this provision will prevent a Supervisor from changing the boundaries of his own district just before election to insure his reelection.

The Board of Supervisors would be given the power "to appoint all county officers other than elective officers, and all officers, assistants, deputies, clerks, messengers and employees whose appointment is not provided for by the charter." In cases of appointments to the unclassified service, all appointments shall be from the civil service list. They shall also fix the compensation of elective officers as well as appointive ones and all subordinates. The authority formerly possessed by county officers to determine the number, selection and compensation of their subordinates is now to be given to the Supervisors, and they may create new offices, appoint persons to fill them and fix their compensation, subject, however, to the civil service.

The election of Supervisors in groups of three and two is left as at present.

ELECTIVE OFFICERS OF THE COUNTY.

The District Attorney's first term would be two years, beginning the first January, 1913; the first terms of the Sheriff and Assessor four years, beginning the same day. Thereafter the District Attorney would alternate with the Sheriff and Assessor every two years. The election of Justices of the peace would remain as at present.

The salaries of the District Attorney and of the Sheriff would be fixed by the Board of Supervisors. The Sheriff would be required to turn in all moneys collected by him to the county treasury. His salary is supposed to be paid to compensate for this loss.

At present, according to statute, there are four Justices in Los Angeles county, two each in every township of 7500 population or more, or in cities of 25,000 population, and one each in the others.

Compensation, salary and fees, running from $600 to $3000 a year, is fixed by the Legislature. Under the proposed charter their salaries and fees would be fixed by the Supervisors—the salaries being not necessarily in proportion to the number of Justices to the population of the county. Not less than one Justice would be appointed for each township.

REGARDING APPOINTIVE OFFICERS.

The Auditor would be appointed from the civil service by the Supervisor. He would be the County Clerk, Recorder, Surveyor, Tax Collector, Treasurer, Public Administrator, Coroner, Probation Officer, Fish and Game Warden, Horticultural Commissioner, Live Stock Inspector, Purchasing Agent, Superintendent of Charities, Superintendent of Public Works, Registrar of Voters and Superintendent of Schools. The first six of these are now elective.

The Board of Education, the Board of Law Library Trustees and the Probation Committee would be appointive, but not required to take the civil service examinations. Now the Probation Committee is appointed by the Board of Supervisors, as is the Probation Officer. The Superintendent of the Juvenile Court, as is the Probation Officer. The Superintendent of the Juvenile Court is at present a subordinate officer with limited jurisdiction.

Among the new offices created is that of Public Defender, and the duties of the office as set forth in the charter draft:

Upon request by the defendant or upon order of the court, the Public Defender shall defend, without expense to them, all persons who are not financially able to employ counsel and who are charged, in the Superior Court, with the commission of any contempt, misdemeanor, felony or other crime. He shall also, upon request, give counsel and advice to such persons charged with any crime upon which appeal is being taken, and he shall prosecute all appeals to a higher court or courts of law and shall defend such persons in all civil litigation in which, in his opinion, they are being persecuted or unjustly harassed.

He shall also upon request give counsel and advice to such persons who are not financially able to employ counsel, in cases in which the State has been convicted upon any such charge, where, in his opinion, they are being persecuted or unjustly harassed.

Mrs. Hall Goes Free

handed the money, receiving it from the "higher ups" in San Francisco and Oakland and making a score of trips into the heart of the Los Angeles Chinatown to carry out the work. Her brother is a well-known attorney in San Francisco and her old mother has been grieving her heart away at the family home in Tallentire. The family name is Tallentire. If the entreaties of her people had availed anything the woman would have pleaded guilty long ago.

The trip that resulted in the arrest of Mrs. Hall was made by the gasoline launch Comrade. It landed thirty-two Chinese contrabands at Monterey on November 26, 1911, just a year to the day before the trial of the woman, and her alleged co-conspirators, was to have been heard. She had made a previous trip on the Peerless with Capt. Ogden, when forty-two Chinese were landed. That was on September 25, 1911. It is also known that before leaving her husband, Ed Hall, who is now a fugitive from justice, she helped make a successful landing of at least thirty Chinese on the gasoline launch Ethel II, owned by Hall and named for her. This boat has since been labeled and sold.

THIRTEEN INDICTED.

The first indictment against Mrs. Hall was returned by the Federal grand jury April 24, 1912, and covered the trip of the Comrade to Monterey. The "Chinese" were: Raymond Scott, Alfred W. Tracey, Kuni Umon, Ma Tin Loy and Antonio Felix, Jr. were joined with the woman in the indictment. This indictment charged a conspiracy to land Chinese contrabands in the United States, in violation of the exclusion act. On October 15, 1912, she, with Antonio Felix, Pan Chow, Moy Fat, Chin Man, Ah Yee, and others, were again indicted. This was the occasion when officers of the immigration service were placed in the boat to see that the avowed purpose of securing the cooperation of Mrs. Hall and Felix in another conspiracy to violate the Chinese exclusion act. The Chinese indicted with Felix and the woman are well-known in San Francisco. They are at liberty. The indictment of October 15, 1912, another indictment was returned, charging Ed Hall, Antonio Felix, Alfred W. Tracey and Mrs. Hall with conspiracy.

CONNELL'S STATEMENT.

Chief Immigration Inspector Connell, who effected the capture of Mrs. Hall and piled up a mountain of evidence against her, had this to say yesterday in regard to the disposition of the case:

"It has been charged that the Immigration Department has been persecuting this woman. I want to say that there is nothing in the allegation. We consider her the smartest operator in the smuggling game ever seen on the Coast and there is no doubt of being in possession of the evidence to convict her. She has been a chief operator in the business. We know of her doings and operations, and have the evidence to show that she paid Capt. Tracey $2500 for the use of one trip of the Comrade. We have a hundred telegrams bearing her signature, showing how she worked in this and other cases."

"But she is a woman, and the first one, so far as my administration of office is concerned, who has been prosecuted for smuggling. She is sick. She has already served eleven months in the County Jail, which is more than the court would likely have given her if she had pleaded guilty long ago. The ends of justice will be served by her release, in my opinion. Her plea of guilty will demonstrate that the government had the proof and that it is more important than her punishment. She has had enough, and I believe she will stay out of the smuggling game. Mrs. Hall would have pleaded guilty long ago if it had not been for Antonio Felix, who seems to have a great deal of influence over her. I hope her brother and old mother will take her home and that she will get a fresh start in the world. She has my best wishes."

HAVE EGGS; LAY 'EM NOT.

Women's Chicks Don't Work Properly and She Refuses to Pay. Court Sustains Her.

"The chicken farm wouldn't pay. The machinery wasn't right and the hens wouldn't spit their hard-boiled eggs," said Mrs. C. B. Kobold yesterday in Justice Forbes's court, where she was being sued by A. E. Bacon of Ocean Park for $25 alleged to be due on account.

"What! Machinery in a chicken!" exclaimed the court. "My chickens have gizards and other apparatus, but I never heard of eggs and wheels—although ostriches do swallow."

"Well, mine wouldn't work," asserted Mrs. Kobold. "I set a lot of good Sundays, which would have meant a lot of money, if the eggs had come."

Explanations followed. Bacon "and contracted to build a 'chicken farm' for Mrs. Kobold at Luna Park similar to the one operated before the fire on the Fraser Pier at Ocean Park. A first payment of $200 was made, the balance to be paid when the contract was finished. April 2, Bacon built the 'farm.' It consisted of imitation chickens sitting on nests full of hard-boiled eggs which were to roll down one at a time, according to plans and specifications, when a baseball knocked the chickens flat. But although the work fell when struck, the eggs had to be handed over the counter by a girl employed for the purpose. This usurpation of the law function lost a good deal of trade. Mrs. Kobold declared. Finally, she testified, her husband was obliged to remake the apparatus. This cost $10, and she objected to paying anything more to Bacon. The court sustained her contention.

Aerial Amusement.

Sight-seeing from the basket of a captive balloon is an amusement and the owners of the air-bag must pay a license, according to a ruling by Police Judge Chesbro yesterday. E. Unger was fined $25 or twenty-five days for violation of the license ordinance. There was some doubt in the mind of Deputy City Prosecutor Stafford whether a captive balloon comes within the scope of section 44 of the general license ordinance. The court decided Unger had violated the ordinance. He suspended sentence on Unger's promise to procure a license.

WHAT IS ON THE BALLOT.

Constitutional Amendments and Candidates.

Los Angeles County to Vote on New Charter.

Initiative and Referendum Measures Submitted.

The sample ballot is out. It is a four-column sheet. At the head of the first column the thirteen "Progressive Republican" Presidential elections are grouped. Then follow the thirteen Prohibition elections. After them come the thirteen Socialist elections.

There are no Taft elections, of course.

At the top of the second column the Democratic elections are placed and below them are blanks for thirteen electors for President Taft or any other man to be written in. One stamp affixed in the space made for it votes for the entire group or either set of electors, though the voter may, if he chooses, vote for individual electors.

At the top of the third column the Congressional ticket is found with the names of the "Republican," Socialist, Prohibition and Democratic candidates in the order named. Vote for one.

Then comes the State Senatorial ticket. Vote for one. Last in the list is the Assembly ticket. Vote for one. The fourth column of the ballot is given to constitutional amendments and initiative and referendum propositions—six in all. Los Angeles county electors will have the opportunity of voting for or against the proposed county charter and also whether the plan adopted by the Public Service Commission for the distribution of surplus water of the Owens River aqueduct shall be approved. Of the six constitutional amendments and proposed statutes to be voted upon November 5, five are initiative measures and one a referendum measure. This is the first time the people of California have been called upon to vote on a referendum.

These constitutional amendments may be summarized as follows: First is an initiative resolution proposing that the State Constitution shall be amended so as to provide for a reorganization of the State Board of Education and that school books shall be furnished by the State free. This is known as the "Free School Books" amendment. Under the old law, text-books are printed under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Printing and are to be sold at cost. The new law provides that they shall be distributed without cost or charge of any kind to all children attending the public schools of the State. Opposition has developed to it, but it will probably carry.

The second initiative proposition is to amend the Constitution so as to include the bonds of an irrigation district among the securities specified by law as lawful to be furnished as a guarantee for public moneys deposited in banks.

Another initiative measure contemplates a change relative to the annexation of cities or the consolidation of city and county governments. It appears on the face of it that it is primarily designed to enable San Francisco to annex Oakland and contiguous territory in order to make a Greater San Francisco, which shall be the premier city of the State. The text is so worded, however, that it applies equally to Los Angeles. The proposed amendment is very unpopular in the country districts and the citizens of Oakland are fighting it tooth and nail. It will probably be defeated.

The fourth proposed amendment is designated the "Home Rule Taxation" measure. It seeks to enable any city or county to change its system of local taxation instead of keeping taxation uniform. It is apparently an attempt to pave the way to single tax where communities are in favor of that system. The single-tax union labor bosses are supporting it. It is argued that the result of this amendment's adoption would be chaotic and confusing.

One of the two laws proposes to establish a racing commission and is designed to revise horse racing in California. It prohibits book-making and pool-selling, but provides for the appointment of a commission to grant licenses for horse-racing for a limited period, and permitting wagers upon horse races by the Paris Mutual and auction pool systems only. The petition for this initiative was heavily signed and the vote will probably be close.

CHESTERFIELD CLOTHES

Here's what one man says:

"For three years I have been wearing the famous 'Chesterfield' shape-retaining clothes, with absolute satisfaction as to their materials, tailoring, fit and style. Never has a tailor been able to give me a suit with such perfect shoulders, snug-fitting collar and unbreakable fronts. I feel comfortable and at ease in any company—with the knowledge that 'Chesterfield' clothes are faultlessly tailored. They grow old fashioned long before they are worn out."

FOR REPUBLICAN ELECTIONS.

Below are the names of the regular Republican nominees for Presidential election in California. Write them on the ballot; they are for Taft:

Amos S. Blaine, Andrew Sherman, Norman Bridges, Charles E. Cline, Arthur E. Cline, Joseph Martin, Susan Levy, Mrs. E. M. Joseph.

STEADY PERSONS.
 A man and a woman by impersonating a gentleman and his wife secured their machine from a local garage three nights in succession. In this day and time it is a wise automobile that knows its own owner.

WHAT'S THE USE?
 Surgeons removed a pearl breastpin from the lungs of a New York girl. She didn't save anything at all. The pin will not pay for the operation, and yet a physician cannot be charged with robbery for taking jewelry under such circumstances.

ON PRINCIPLE.
 Mr. Perkins says, "I'm in this fight on principle." This is true, but he should have said the word "principal." And of course his interest is centered in the success of the Bull Moose party. This also is the interest always expected on principal invested.

THE COMING DAY.
 We always suspected that science is good for something without knowing just what. Our faith has been justified by works. Melons can be grown with any desired flavor by injecting them with extracts when very young. As soon as this improvement reaches Kentucky it will require an expert to distinguish a watermelon from a mint Julep.

GIVEN UP HIS DAD.
 Princess Louisa of Saxony has written an opus and has the money and pull to get it staged. How sad this will be for her friends! You see, if the gentle amateur's effort was intended as a tragedy it is certain to be funny, and if she meant it for comedy it is sure to be sad. The skit is to be produced simultaneously in Paris and Milan, and the one consolation of her friends is that they cannot be at both places at once.

COPPER DIVIDENDS.
 The Amalgamated Copper Company paid 7 per cent. dividends in 1907 when the bull pool in copper carried the price of the metal up to 35 cents per pound. The collapse of the pool reduced dividends to 5 per cent., where they remained until the quarter ending September 30 last, when 1 1/2 per cent. was paid. The expectation is that a 5 per cent. quarterly dividend may be expected in the near future.

There are copper properties in Arizona and Sonora which can readily be made to pay 50 per cent. on the price for which they can be purchased and developed, provided, of course, copper remains at 17 1/2 or higher. It is predicted that the constantly increasing demand for copper will absorb the increased production, which for the past nine months of the current year has been in the United States 126,523,524 pounds, or 16 per cent.

NO VIRTUE.
 It is said that Mr. Katmai can do no more damage because it has already destroyed all of the property within reach. Anybody could behave on those terms. In fact, it is at this point that the reform of most people begins. Every man starts in to be consistent when he strikes his limitations. Humanity naturally breaks its neck to be good when it is no longer pleasant or profitable to do otherwise. Some day somebody will surprise themselves and the world by doing the right thing without being forced to do so, and the rest of us will stand aghast in the presence of a voluntary virtue. Women, at least, make a start in that direction by their passion for renunciation. The same principle changed from the negative to the positive would be a powerful estimation. Will the first person who dares across the idea and who is able to make it work please whistle? We are not skeptics, nor do we take a table-spoonful of pessimism each night before retiring, but we confess that it would be some inspiration for us to know just a few persons who really lived about a one-hundredth part of what they talk or write. Us for demonstration.

What has become of the man behind Tim Woodruff's fancy vest?

FORBID IT, ALMIGHTY GOD!

In all the bitterness of the pending political contest the only men in the United States who have attempted to besmirch the character and the record of President Taft with foul and false accusations are Theodore Roosevelt and Hiram W. Johnson. The big Bull Moose compared our President to a "pickpocket," and the little Bull Moose said that he is "the most humiliating character in American history."

It is the opinion of lawyers that President Taft as a jurist ranks with any judge who ever occupied a seat on the Federal bench. It is the opinion of statesmen that as Cabinet officer and as Governor of the Philippines he displayed executive ability equal to any officer who ever filled an administrative place in State, province or nation. It is the opinion of all who have watched his actions and read his utterances as President that he ranks with Washington and Lincoln as a wise, fearless and original constructive statesman.

He never solicited or received a dollar from corporations or individuals to promote his personal ambitions. He never issued a permit to favored friends to violate the laws. He was never accused or even suspected, either as judge, Secretary, Governor or President, of profiting or attempting to profit profusely by any official act. Upon the stainless shield of his personal honor and uprightness no cloud of scandal ever rested, and the foul and cowardly and false accusations of Roosevelt and Johnson can no more dim his record than the exhalations of the slums can dim the facets of a diamond.

Gov. Boies of Iowa, in a letter to the Manchester Press, republished in yesterday's Times, calls for the asperations of Roosevelt for that Presidential third term which Washington refused and which the ardent and influential friends of Grant were unable to achieve even for the great historic military figure of the Civil War.

The Governor cogently asks what, if Roosevelt should be elected, would there be to prevent him from using the power and patronage of the Presidential office to obtain a fourth term? What would there be to prevent him, after a four years' interregnum, from seeking and obtaining a fifth and a sixth term?

Are all the traditions of the republic to be trampled in the mire in order to gratify the insane and unwarranted ambitions of one man? Must all the statesmen of our country, present and future, stand back with "their hands on their mouths and their mouths in the dust," and cry, "Let Roosevelt rule, for no other man is fit to occupy the White House while he lives?" Is the prize of this mock Caesar to be preferred to the wise words of men who are his superiors in every attribute that fits a man to preside over a hundred millions of the freest, brightest and most advanced people in all the world? We have fallen on evil times indeed, we are abased into the very muck of degeneracy if Theodore Roosevelt is the only man in the United States who is fit to guide its destinies.

Worse, if possible, than the rule of Roosevelt are the means he has adopted in trying to obtain such rule. He has deliberately and persistently set about to destroy the party of Lincoln, the party that has accomplished more for the preservation of the nation, for the freedom of its people, for the prosperity and progress and growth of our country, than any political organization of which history makes record.

Fronting the east end of the broad avenue which leads from the Capitol at Washington toward the rising sun stands a gigantic bronze statue of Lincoln in the act of striking shackles from a kneeling slave. If those dumb lips could speak they would say to the generation now occupying the field of national thought and action: "Will you be led by this pretender to murder and bury in dishonor the great party which, through war and peace, through victory and defeat, through good and evil report, has conducted this nation to its present proud position of pre-eminence and power?"

On the great Riverside drive in New York the tomb of Grant is a shrine before which residents and travelers, the great of earth and the majesty of the people, stand with uncovered heads. If its great doors could open the rebuking voice of its immortal occupant would say to those who would belittle the heroes he led to victory by destroying the great party of Union and freedom: "Was it for this your fathers bled and died? Was it for this, with the banners of war, they wielded discordant, disordered and warring commonwealths into the mightiest of earth's nations?"

At the portals of the New World on Red-Island, in New York Harbor, stands a giant figure holding aloft a mighty torch. It is Liberty Enlightening the World. "Welcome," she says, "to this land where liberty and law, where freedom and order, linked arm in arm, are marching down the corridors of time. This is the land that the sword of Washington freed. This is the land whose destinies were ruled and shaped by the great Presidents of the past. This is the land that for half a century has, with one disastrous exception of four years, been under the control of the Republican party—the grandest organization of freedom that the world has ever known."

Must there be added to these words: "But that great party is now no more. It was slain in order to give Theodore Roosevelt a third term as President."

"Forbid it, Almighty God!"

GIVING UP THE PHILIPPINES.

Before the adjournment of Congress Representative Jones of Virginia introduced a bill providing for the independence of the Philippines, the process of formation of a republic there to begin in 1913 and to continue until 1921, under the supervision of the United States. The House Committee, it is understood, approved the bill.

This is a revival of the old Democratic project to "give up" the Philippine. Not much has been heard of it lately. Any movement in such direction has been and still is subject to the objection that no provision can be found in the Constitution of the United States authorizing the "giving up" of any portion of our national domain. We have acquired territory by purchase from France and Russia, by conquest from Mexico and Spain, by peaceful and unpurchased annexation from Texas and Hawaii. The countries which sold to us had a right under their constitutions of government to thus dispose of a portion of their possessions. The countries which merged themselves with us by annexation had the right and power to do so. The countries from which we acquired territory by conquest gave it up to us under the laws of war and the law of nations.

Prosperity Suits Him Best.

He knows the true from the false.

But because we bought territory we cannot therefore sell it. Because we accepted territory as a gift we cannot therefore give it away. The only way in which we could, under the Constitution, divest ourselves of the Philippines would be by being whipped in battle by some nation that might demand and receive them as spoils of conquest. Such a contingency is not likely to occur.

A citizen of the United States, native or naturalized, may give up his citizenship and become a citizen of another country. But the United States has no power to expatriate him. He is entitled to its protection. The people of the Philippines have been more than half a decade citizens of the United States, entitled to protection as such. There is no power in Congress to divest them of their rights as citizens.

Aside from the legal and constitutional objections to Congressman Jones' plan of "giving up" the Philippines there are practical obstacles in the way. Suppose the Philippines don't want to be "given up." Suppose they prefer to remain as they are, and have their mails carried and their government administered at the cost of Uncle Sam. Suppose some of them want to be "given up," and some don't. Suppose the Manilaans decline to be "given up" to the Tagalogs, who might bear their city. Suppose the Tagalogs decline to be "given up" to have their throats cut by the Manilaans. Suppose the different tribes of bolo men decline to be "given up" to anybody. Suppose the Sultan of Sulu declines to relinquish his harem and himself to government by officials appointed or elected from Luzon.

Congressman Jones' plan of "giving up" the Philippines is a revival of Billy Bryan's outcry against imperialism. That statesman, after lobbying unceasingly for the ratification of the Treaty of Paris by which we acquired the Philippines, after parading the Senate lobbies in his colonel's uniform with his bright sword—undimmed with Spanish gore—swinging at his side; after inducing nineteen Democratic Senators to vote for ratification, shifted his base and traversed the country as a Presidential candidate, denouncing the treaty the ratification of which he helped to procure. He sounded his bazoo against imperialism "from morn to dewy eve."

Congressman Jones has disintegrated "imperialism" from its grave and again presents it as a Democratic war cry. The next thing in order will be a revival of old sixteen-to-one. Then in due time will follow a war upon each of the war amendments, a plea for the restoration of slavery and at last an endorsement of Roosevelt's statement that Jefferson was a liar when he declared that "all men are created equal," and a coward when he announced that "these colonies are and of right ought to be free and independent States."

Congressman Jones is sounding the prelude of the old-time Democratic anthem: "Backward, flow backward, O Time in your flight. Make me an ass again just for tonight."

NO LONGER TRUTHFUL.

Col. Roosevelt originally gained the admiration of the American people by a habit of upright and downright explosion of speech on every subject that was brought to his attention. It was not then his practice to put his hand to the plow and subsequently take it back. That is a habit he has lately acquired. Shuffling and evasiveness were then no part of his make-up. He had once the courage of his convictions. If he had allowed himself to steal a horse he would not have denied the act. He would have said, "Yes, I was tired of walking. I wanted to ride and I took the animal. What are you going to do about it?" A fierce desire to defeat President Taft, for that is all that the candidacy of the big Bull Moose leader means, has wrecked the mind of the colonel and made of him what he charges Thomas Jefferson with being—economical of the truth to the verge of parody.

There was no public sentiment in 1904 against large cash contributions either from individuals or corporations to political campaign funds. The money was needed and used for legitimate expenses, such as compensation of speakers, hall rent, bands, printing, etc. The Republicans probably received more money than the Democrats, but the latter got all that they could. Roosevelt certainly knew of the contributions to his campaign fund, for he was not the man to close his eyes to what was going on. The evidence before the Senate Committee shows that he participated in soliciting some of the largest of those contributions.

It is only within the last few years that public sentiment has been aroused against corporate contributions to election funds. The outcry against "predatory wealth" and "big business" and "special privilege" and "loathsome capitalism" began to assume proportions all over the land about two years ago. Col. Roosevelt at once seized upon these pet names for an obnoxious solvent people and made them his own slogans. Simultaneously he commenced to make denials that he had any knowledge of the corporation contributions to his election fund in 1904, but, except with respect to the Standard Oil gift, his denials were evasive and explanatory, rather than candid and direct. He did not avow knowledge of having accepted the backing of "Wall Street." He did not defend his acceptance of $2,000,000 assistance on the ground that it was then considered neither unlawful nor immoral. He shuffled about it and evaded, and "whipped the devil around the stump" generally.

Another instance of the uncandor and shiftness of the big Bull Moose was his action with respect to Canadian reciprocity. He wrote a letter to President Taft warmly endorsing the terms and purpose of the treaty. Then he ascertained that the farmers of the North and West were against reciprocity. Then he became a candidate against Taft for the Republican nomination. Then he denounced the treaty and denounced President Taft for making it.

One peculiarity of Col. Roosevelt is that he never makes any excuse for his inconsistencies. He hops, but he never defends or explains his former position. To this day neither he nor any of his newspaper organs have defended or explained his action in granting permission to the steel trust to violate the Sherman law, nor his statements in his published works that Jefferson was a coward and a liar, and Madison an imbecile, and Jackson ignorant and corrupt, and foreign-born citizens immoral, and Populists unclean and dishonest, and farmers and mechanics not to be compared with drunken cowboys. The big Bull Moose explains nothing, defends nothing, denies nothing. His motto is that of Danton, "L'audace, l'audace, toujours l'audace." On the night of November 5 he will say what the giraffe said to Noah when he found that he could not obtain admission to the ark: "Go along with your old fatback. It isn't going to be much of a shower, anyhow. Give me a tow and put out a bundle of hay on the stern of your ship and I can walk and keep my nose out of the water, and when we reach Ararat I will be the first away and will swear that I never saw your ark."

It is to be hoped that those patriotic Greeks who are leaving this and other cities to join their army at home will not arrive too late to have some of the fun. The result of the last clash between Greece and Turkey still rangles in the breast of patriotic Greeks.

THE ANVIL CHORUS.

BY LILLIAN COLLINS.

Not long since a woman writer by the denunciations of her contribution to an eastern publication, aroused widespread discussion in educational circles. That her attack upon present-day methods of education was rather more vitriolic than the circumstances would seem to justify is not to be denied. Yet educators themselves admit that more than a kernel of wheat may be winnowed from the chaff of her caustic arraignment.

That a good deal of so-called education is wasteful, in the sense that it does not really educate, is too sadly true; that much time and money are being uselessly expended in the vain attempt to force identity of training upon widely-differing temperaments is equally self-evident; but the statement that our school system is the disgrace of America is mere hysterical hyperbole. American educators are giving of their very best effort in a public service which makes tremendous demands upon mind and soul.

There is a strong tendency among writers to knock prevailing customs and existing order, but very little is being offered by these same writers in the way of constructive or reconstructive policy. Hammering is one thing, building is another.

Discussion is surely not serving its highest usefulness when it merely points out deficiencies in a system. It falls far short of effectiveness if it does not at least suggest a remedy. It is so amazingly easy to pick flaws in a fabric; so difficult—almost impossible—to make perfect the defect.

Educators incline toward placing the responsibility for educational inefficiencies upon the lack of funds. Larger and yet larger appropriations are being asked for, and right nobly are the people responding to the urge. Every year immense sums are being expended upon fine modern buildings and equipment, upon paraphernalia and utensils; yet each yearly budget falls far short of satisfying the growing demand. Does this indicate that the bugbear of race suicide is a myth; or does it suggest that we are growing farther and farther away from the simple methods of instruction that produced the really great men of a past age?

As a nation we are obsessed with the belief that the spirit of progress manifests upon a basis of dollars and cents. Thus, even in the matter of forming the ideals of the young, do we give voice to the cry of the age: Money—more money—and still more and more money! By this teaching we are rapidly developing a race of money-getters, whose great men are financial geniuses.

But the system of education which evolved a Lincoln was not unduly concerned with the question of up-keep. The whole world is a school to the individual who truly desires to learn. This is what education must mean in its final analysis—the arousing in the individual of this desire to learn. Once that great feat is accomplished the acquiring of knowledge becomes more or less automatic. The forces within Lincoln's young body had been aroused by some agency, and this inner urge spurred him on to the satisfaction of its questioning. Here, to my mind, is a great point:

The first question to be answered in the question that is asked. Until the child questions it is useless to provide him with answers to ready-made problems of our choosing. I truly believe that, with all our people were first taught the dignity of work, being done exteriorly for the pupil—too much instruction is being given from the outside; too little, far too little, attention is directed to the awakening of the inner forces which are already an integral element of the child's personality.

It seems to me that the real goal at which all education should aim is to arouse and draw out the inherent possibilities for individual attainment which lie dormant in each child when it comes into existence. It is not through crowding the young mind with unrelated facts; it is not through prescribing a fixed channel for the plastic substance of youthful thought to follow that this sacred force for individual power shall be uncovered and developed to its highest exponent of efficiency.

I sometimes think that our educational system is faulty, in that we begin at the wrong end of the problem. If our young people were first taught the dignity of work and later given the privilege of education and special training the plan might react favorably upon our whole social life.

The trouble is that the average young person does not want to know the things he is being taught. He is having information injected into a mind that has not awakened to the point of questioning upon that specific subject. His will has not been aroused. Horatio W. Dresser, Ph.D., in "Human Efficiency," writes:

"The problem of the arousing of the will is indeed the problem of life."

As it is, Tommy Smith is not remotely interested in the achievement of fabulous mythical or historic personages, but he is vitally alive to the problem that Jimmy Jones is demonstrating with his clumsy little wireless apparatus next door; and the most prodigious effort of mind and body is but pleasing pastime to him in his own awkward attempt to construct a miniature aeroplane.

Why not let Tommy Smith study the things he wants to know, when he wants to know them; and continue to study the things he wants to know, as they present themselves, in orderly fashion, to his developing powers of mind and body.

Let's think about it, anyway!

Was Thinking About It.

[New Orleans Times-Democrat:] A well-known Liverpool cleyrman, Rev. James Hamilton, tells a story of a fishing experience in Shetland.

Accompanied by a local youth, Mr. Hamilton was out fishing for sea trout, when his foot slipped on a stone and he overbalanced. Encumbered with heavy waders, which quickly filled with water, Mr. Hamilton was in considerable danger of drowning. After a good deal of struggling, however, he managed to reach safety, though in a very exhausted state.

When he recovered his breath, he remarked reproachfully to the youth, who had stood placidly watching him: "I notice you never tried to help me."

"Na," came the flow reply; "but it wasna because I wasna thinkin' o' it!"

CALIFORNIA'S MESSAGE.

No part of the world has a more welcome message for the rest of the world than California. It is a message of opportunity, opportunity for the investor, who seeks a field of tremendous resources in the process of rapid development; opportunity for the homeseeker, who wants a productive and a prosperous business environment; opportunity for the infirm in quest of health, who regain vigor in a climate without parallel on the earth; opportunity for the tourist, who crosses continents and seas in pursuit of pleasure.

And there is no herald so convincing as the results of the past few years. Thousands of thousands of home-seekers, health-seekers, tourists, investors, who yearly come to a greater and better and more prosperous California, as the MIDWINTER NUMBER OF THE LOS ANGELES TIMES.

Every adult person in Southern California should know these things about the TIMES MIDWINTER NUMBER:

DATE OF ISSUE—On or about January 1, 1913.

FORM—Six thirty-two-page magazines and the regular daily.

CIRCULATION—300,000 copies. Of these 50,000 go to foreign financiers and investors; between 55,000 and 60,000 to daily readers; and more than 90,000 to persons in the East and Middle West who are looking to Southern California with interest and day.

CHARACTER—The Midwinter Number is distinctly a work of character and with character's distinctive policy of outspokenness. Months have been devoted to its compilation. It is accurate and more of every particular. It is convincing. It is a statement. It is a vast compilation of reliable information concerning California. It treats of practically every phase of progress in the Southwest, the great industries that are in operation and building, the stupendous improvements in process of accomplishment, the unexampled growth of Los Angeles and of the West, in general. It graphically pictures the Southland's God and man-made beauties. It pictures Southern California as it is. There is no more eloquent answer than the truth about the Southland. The Midwinter Number tells it all.

LAWYERS FOUND IN CONTRACTS.

Must Be Repeated to Develop Results.

Conference Portends Important Changes.

Water Meeting to Be One of Protest.

Direct Wire to the Times.

San Bernardino, Oct. 29.—[Special Dispatch.] Flaws have been discovered in the Vroman act which will invalidate the award on paving and sewer contracts aggregating more than $1,000,000 recently awarded by the city.

The most important contracts involved are for the macadam paving of the main street and the northwest sewer line which about four miles long are involved. Several other contracts for sewer work are also involved in the suit which caused something like a panic in official circles.

The contracts were not discovered until the attorneys for the city were passed upon by the city council. Proceedings are now on again which will result in improvements several.

FINE FEATHERS, BUT BAD BIRDS?

TWO WELL-DRESSED MEN TAKEN INTO CUSTODY.

One Charged With Embezzlement and the Other With Passing Forgery.

Planned for Miradero Sanatorium. Banquet Tendered Ball Player.

Santa Barbara, Oct. 29.—That fine feathers don't always make good birds was demonstrated during the past two days through arrest by Chief of Police Ross.

On Saturday night the officer jailed Caleb Mylund on a charge of passing a fictitious check and last night he took into custody Jack Gordon on a warrant charging embezzlement.

The arrest coming from an officer at Coalinga. Both prisoners were attired in clothing of the latest cut and were particularly genteel in every way.

Myland had given Peter Kenney, a restaurant proprietor, a check for $25.00, having had a sumptuous dinner at his place. Kenney did not like the appearance of the paper and asked Chief Ross to apprehend the young man. He was arrested at the depot. He has admitted similar offenses in Long Beach and San Francisco, the police say.

Gordon came to Santa Barbara last week from Coalinga, where he had carried on a contest for a newspaper and was employed here doing similar work. When arrested he declared that there was no reason for the charge. His wife was nearly prostrated over the arrest.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.

Miradero, the sanatorium founded by the late Miss Anna C. Blake, one of America's foremost philanthropists, is to be improved on an extensive scale, plans for which were announced by the board of directors.

The improvements will include the construction of a new building, the enlargement of the grounds, and the installation of modern equipment.

YOUTHFUL MAID BELIEVES ARTIST

Wife No. 1 and Seven Children Appear on the Scene—Raid of Deputy Sheriffs Reveals Deceit.

Santa Ana, Oct. 29.—For unlawfully having two wives, William Rawlins was sentenced yesterday to nine years and five months in San Quentin.

Since he has been in jail Rawlins has spent much time in writing verses, an art in which he says he was expert when he was a young man.

Rawlins asked for a stay of execution for a few days and was granted it.

Both of Rawlins' wives appeared against him. The first, a faded woman, mother of seven children by Rawlins, came here from Durango, Colo.

She married Rawlins, now aged 37, in 1910. About six years ago Rawlins voluntarily disappeared and in November, 1911, he brought Miss Zelma Dickson, aged 22, to Santa Ana and made her his wife. The girl thought Rawlins was a wealthy mining man.

Rawlins was arrested last March. Judge West knocked off seven months from the limit of ten years.

NEWS NOTES.

EDDIE'S STORY OF CHARGE.

SUSPENDED CITY PROSECUTOR FACES ACCUSER TODAY.

Attorneys Say He Will Deny Undue Familiarities and Excuse Girl's Presence in His Office—Five Witnesses to Testify—Third Complaint Likely.

Frank Dominguez, who has assumed virtual control of the defense of Guy Eddie, suspended City Prosecutor, in the various hearings in the Juvenile Court, stated yesterday that Eddie will be the main witness this morning in the Alma Jones case.

Dominguez declared his client will be able to give a reasonable excuse for the presence of the young mulatto in his office on various occasions. He also said the moral censor will deny that he ever attempted undue familiarity with Mrs. Jones. There will be about five witnesses for the defense who will offer testimony affecting the reputation of the complaining witness.

Deputy District Attorney McGarity expects to have several more witnesses, but he would not indicate yesterday what will be the nature of their testimony. It Judge Wilbur, who has charge of the Juvenile Court, considers the evidence sufficient, he will hold the defendant to answer. If not, the case will be dismissed.

The trial of the suspended City Prosecutor on the charges preferred by Mrs. Alice Phelps is set for November 21. By that time it is expected Earl Rogers will be ready to take up the defense. If satisfactory monetary arrangements can be made with the Good Government Organization, or those of its membership who are backing Eddie.

However, the Darrow trial, slated for November 25, may make Rogers leave the Phelps case in the hands of attorneys, Dehm and Geisler, attorneys associated with him.

TWO-BIT DANCE IN WOMAN'S CLUB.

WORKING GIRLS TREAD SACRED FLOOR AND HAVE FINE TIME.

Dancing Club Versus Municipal Dance Hall the Point at Issue. Mother of New Plan Says First Is Best and Expects to Prove It. More Experiments to Follow.

For the first time in its history the sacred precincts of the Woman's Club House last evening echoed to the merry laughter of the plebeian, when belles and beaux from the humbler walks of life promenaded the ballroom floor where often society leaders and the idle rich have danced.

It was the initial dance of the new Eureka Club, and the culmination of an interesting experiment which Mrs. Ella Swickard is making in an effort to offset the demand in some quarters for a municipal dance hall. Further, the dance was remarkable because it was primarily for girls whose earnings do not exceed $15 per week.

The fact that the attendance was by no means large, and that the dancers were as well dressed and as well behaved as at the average social gathering, was the further suggestion that perhaps many $10 wage earners had been somewhat overworked by the idea of making the famous west of Main street did not discourage the promoter in the least, and she announces the second dance of the Eureka Club for November 31.

Mrs. Swickard has some decided ideas on the subject of dance halls, and as she greeted the guests and took their tea and four-bit pieces she gave them utterance. "The municipal dance hall," she said, "will necessarily be available for all persons so long as they are well behaved. The social line cannot successfully be drawn, and the result will be that the very girls and boys the halls aim to help will seek their amusement elsewhere. The halls will be expensive to maintain and police and I believe the problem can be far more effectively solved by the dancing club where the young

Try This Home-Made Cough Remedy

Costs Little, But Does the Work Quickly, or Money Refunded.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 3 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinet (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually ends a deep seated cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, croup, chest pains, bronchitis and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

This recipe makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasantly.

Pinet is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in quinine and all the natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This plan of making cough syrup with Pinet and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equalled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist (or Pinet or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinet Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

folks come early and remain through the evening; where there is a proper supervision; where the surroundings are uplifting, and where the opportunity to drift away for a drink or an auto ride is not available."

Mrs. Swickard, who has worked much among girls, is also the organizer of the Dixie Dancing Club, whose members are recruited from south of the Mason and Dixon line, and the Reception Committee for last night's function were taken largely from that organization.

Mrs. J. W. Summerfield was on this staff, and did not lose an opportunity to explain that the J. W. Summerfield whose name she bears is the same identical J. W. Summerfield who is "prominently mentioned" as a future judge of the Superior Court. Other members of the committee were J. H. Cray, president of the Dixie Dancing Club; Mrs. Bruce Stevenson, Mrs. Kate Leonard, Miss Bertha Gilbert, William Scott, N. B. full belief of the operation for at least a year.

When Chance was asked at what price he held his services, he looked thoughtful a moment and drew out his reply.

"Well," he said, "I haven't made less than $25,000 a year in baseball for the past seven years and some years during that period I have touched the $50,000 mark. Therefore I would not consent to manage any team for less than $25,000 for a two-year contract and a bonus of $10,000 for signing that contract."

From Chance's own statement in this regard it is readily gathered that he has made at least $250,000 in hard cash in his fourteen years in baseball and as he has invested his money from time to time, it can be seen that he is fairly well fixed in this world's goods. Chance has about $25,000 in the bank, and he has a fine home where he lives, as his orange grove is valued at $50,000 and he has a fine new office building which bears his name and which he built a year ago.

TOUGH BATTLE FOR U.S.C. MEN.

Crucial Contest of Year on for Next Saturday.

Classy Santa Clara Men Hope to Win Easily.

Northern Back Field Faster Than that of Locals.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

The U.S.C. team will undoubtedly be put to its hardest test of the season next Saturday, when the Trojan men face Pat Higgins' fighting Santa Clara Warriors. Flushed with victory over every team it has met this year, with the exception of the Australians, the Santa team is coming south to try and win the U.S.C. aggregation by a larger score than was rolled up by Stanford on the last trip here.

The northern experts do not concede the southerners a chance in this game and it is no secret on the part of the Santa Clara men that the only problem will be the size of their winning score over U.S.C. This sounds pretty strong, but facts go to prove that Santa Clara is one of the best teams on the Coast playing the English game. The Santa team is coming south to try and win the U.S.C. aggregation by a larger score than was rolled up by Stanford on the last trip here.

The Spectacular Car Value for 1913

Maxwell "22" Roadster Speedy, Smart, Fully Equipped, $870

Los Angeles

This Maxwell roadster is smart in design, and a brilliant performer as well. Latest high-priced English roadsters were used as models for its design. In accomplishments, it eclipses even the famous Maxwell economy records. And it has the speed of a bullet.

With its sensational advantages, it is not remarkable that this car is the undisputed leader of cars near its price.

"22" is strong in construction and sturdy in appearance. It is not only a smart car, but a shone car as well—one you will be proud of in every respect.

This car, fully equipped, at the price of $870 (L.O.B. Los Angeles), is a quick seller. The output is limited, so we urge you to act quickly if you want one.

You should buy a Maxwell because—It holds the World's speed record in its class. It is the national touring champion—winner of the Golden Tour. It lasts longest—proven by actual State registrations. It costs less to maintain—proven by public demonstration. We believe one road trial will quickly convince you of this "22's" extraordinary value. Come in today and go for a ride. If not today, write or phone for an appointment.

KILBANE PUTS OUT LITTLE TOMMY DUGAN.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. YOUNGSTOWN (O.) Oct. 29. —(Exclusive Dispatch.) Johnny Kilbane, lightweight champion of the world, met Tommy Dugan of San Francisco in what was scheduled to be a ten-round go tonight. The first three rounds were fast and furious and indicated that the bout would go the limit, but in the fourth round Kilbane crossed his right to the jaw and Dugan went down for the count. Honors were given to the first round, Kilbane feeling his man out and doing some clever covering. In the second Kilbane went after his man and Dugan remained on the defensive until nearly the close, when Dugan started a rally that almost won him the fight. Kilbane, however, was not to be taken in and he quickly regained his feet. In the third round Dugan was the aggressor, with Kilbane backing away to avoid punishment. In the fourth the boys were in the midst of a rattling muck-up when the knockout punch was landed. Dugan did not recover for ten minutes.

Some Class Here.

A trio of names of Vera Haddale, who is gladdening masculine hearts in the new girl show at the Casino.

Playwright Paul Armstrong yesterday was standing in the lobby of the Burbank Theater, chewing an unlit cigar.

A well-known friend thrust a copy of The Times, with Gale's pen and ink crime against the Armstrong profile, in front of him.

"Isn't it awful?" queried the well-meaning friend.

Armstrong, gazing steadily at the long line of buyers of tickets for the night's performance of "The Escape," murmured in answer, "I think it is the most beautiful thing in all the wide, wide world; it sure does look as if we put this one over on the dear public."

"You've seen Gale's drawing, then," murmured the well-intentioned friend.

"Yes, and tell him I forgive him his unwarrented crime—I forgive all my enemies, even Sam Hixson, who used to be my fat city editor in Buffalo, I am almost even tempted to forgive Winthrop Ames."

Winthrop Ames, let it be understood, is the Harvard graduate who tried his managerial wings at the Casino Theater, Boston, and then endeavored to reform the American summer at the New Theater, in New York, in conjunction with Lee Shubert and a host of millionaires—and failed, most miserably.

Just at this moment, Mr. Ames is the proprietor of New York's Little Theater.

Now, with the scenery all set and what Paul Armstrong would term the "dramatic persona" of the sketch lined up in true style, we will proceed to define Mr. Armstrong's almost forgiveness of Winthrop Ames.

This cheery-old Mr. Armstrong had previously edited, named, edited, termed and advertised on the front page of the manuscript as "The Escape."

Mr. Armstrong thrust Mr. Ames into a comfortable upholstered chair, proffered one of his personally monogrammed cigarettes to the founder, aider and protector of the Real American Drama, and proceeded to read "The Escape."

At the end of the three hours' session, Mr. Ames announced as his opinion that "The Escape" was a regular play—that it had been written by the late Mr. Ames or the not so lamented Granville Barker of London, it would have prominence, distinction, as well as financial and literary fulfillment thrust upon it.

"Well, I know it's a great play and it's been turned down by Erlanger, Charlie Frohman, George Tyler and all the other high-brow managers in New York. They all chant its praises, but thus far in the career of the little play, no one has seen fit to come across with a check of sufficient proportions to warrant me in believing that they are not stringing me."

"Bringing you—I fail to—" broke in Mr. Ames.

"You make me all right, I believe; and now what I want to know is, will you produce 'The Escape' at the Little Theater?"

"Gladly," instantly rejoined Mr. Ames of Harvard.

"Alright—here's the fountain pen and a little check book; just sign your name here, please. That's right, and I thank you and congratulate you upon getting a play that will add to your financial resources, the while it permits the critics to hail you as a manager who is not blinded by the fog of American Authorship. I bid you farewell. Just drop me a line when you are ready to commence rehearsal, and I'll come around and renew acquaintance with my little play."

"That was a matter of five or six months ago."

In the meanwhile Mr. Ames's friends prevailed upon him that it was not real high-brow Managerial Illusions to perpetrate a play by an American author in the Little Theater—certainly not until after he had given the Foreign Writers another whack at his banking roll.

So now, Mr. Ames's Little Theater in New York is housing "The Escape" with Jack Barrymore in the name part.

The critics have announced as their belief that Anatol doesn't turn out to

Will Scene from "The Money Moon" at the Belasco Theater.

Showing Orin Johnson and Margaret Leslie in one of the best moments of the play in which both have scored such heavy personal triumphs. This is the fourth week of the run.

he all it was cracked up to be in advance.

Of course, when Mr. Ames put on Anatol he forfeited his rights to "The Escape," as well as the $5000 advance royalty.

And equally, of course, he will hear of the tremendous success achieved by "The Escape" at the hands of Mr. Morosco's local Burbank company.

Mr. Armstrong will personally attend to sending the newspaper notices—and they are a fine bunch of adjectival commendations—to Mr. Ames.

Mr. Ames certainly will be glad to hear of the success of "The Escape," won't he?

Yes, he will. In fact, he will be so pleased that I think he will go down in the cellar of his Little Theater and kick himself.

Anatol, you must remember, will cost Mr. Ames a small-sized fortune if he continues it very much longer.

"The Escape" will make Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Morosco a small-sized fortune if they keep it on in much longer.

And each play represents art, in all its vigor, purity and beauty.

Harry Montoya is the busiest actor in the city.

Up with the lark—or whatever bird it is that gets up before all the other little birds every morning—Mr. Montoya dashes off three or four thousand words of his new play, then spends a few hours down at the Burbank rehearsal and—

THEN—

Here comes the secret! Then he hies himself to his own little School of Dramatic Expression or School of Acting, whichever you prefer.

Mr. Montoya has enough pupils on his register so that the other day he suggested to Otis Morosco the idea that sometime when he might perhaps have a slight hankering to disengage himself from the Montoya services—that the aforesaid Montoya wouldn't object on account of the immense quantities of money that he is earning by teaching otherwise sane and well-meaning young people how to act.

One attorney who is regarded as one of the big men of the Los Angeles bar, recently handed Mr. Montoya a check for twenty-five hundred dollars with the declaration: "Take that and make my daughter an actress."

Mr. Montoya hurried around to the lawyer's bank and cashed the check and now is engaged in the somewhat staggering task of trying to "make my daughter an actress."

"Yes," proudly declares Mr. Montoya, "I have other pupils who bring big, imposing checks to me, so why I should worry?"

All the ball players seem to be going in for vaudeville. In Los Angeles, our own "Hap" Hogan is going to make himself miserable for fifteen minutes with his vaudeville undecorated, not to mention the state of mind that the audience will experience during the program of the Hogan turn.

Go to it, Hap, bite off a chunk of the coin and shake hands with Art.

In New York, Johnny McGraw, the leader of the Giants, is toying himself out in a spike-batted coat twice a day and relating stories of a baseball character to the Keith audience—and he is getting two thousand dollars a week for the torture he goes through in learning what to do with his hands.

During his vaudeville act McGraw invariably explains that Fred Shodgrass merely made an error, something that any player is apt to do at any time, and promises that Shodgrass will be a Giant next season.

Norman Peal, who is in the city advancing the interests of that always popular play, "The Dasher," tells me that the Dasher play is celebrating its twenty-first year.

That's going some for a play that has nothing but Heart Interest, Some Racing Horses, a Pickensinsly Hand and a few Regular Actors to commend it.

It will be remembered that Mr. Dasher, who was regarded very much in the light of an Author's White Hope in this city last spring, failed to live up to the press agents' promises when his play, "Captain La Witte," was revived at the Burbank.

Oliver Morosco yesterday sent to Richard Bennett copies of the advertisement of the fourth week of "The Money Moon" at the Belasco.

Mr. Morosco's original intention was to have Bennett appear in "The Money Moon" at the Belasco.

Bennett, as soon as he read the piece, threw cold water on the idea.

"The play's no good; it's a sure fiver; the public won't stand for it more than three nights; nothing doing in my product," was the Bennett pronouncement.

And Bennett stuck to it.

If one asks Morosco if he is not glad that Bennett refused to play "The Money Moon" a smile will indicate the managerial pleasure, even if there is no verbal disclaimer.

James O'Shea is once more selling tickets at the Majestic Theater after a three days' invasion of the commercial field in San Diego.

Mr. O'Shea ventures the opinion that being treasurer of a theater is a pretty good job, after all.

He proposed to stick to the drama and all that goes with it and to eschew all glided offers of augmented emolument to daily with Hard Work.

Miss Jessie Busley's approaching Orpheum Circuit tour not only introduces another well-known legitimate vaudeville, but brings a skeleton written by an author whose successes have placed him among the foremost playwrights. Miss Busley's vehicle is called "Miss 112" and is by Rupert Hughes, the author of "Excuse Me."
